

Nurturing the Early Childhood Provider relationship

Introduction

We take a long time to choose the right Early childcare provider that fits our child. They look after, educate and play with our most precious and cherished children. How do we develop the right relationships with them and they with us.

Discussion questions

1. Key story from the podcast: What would your answer be for your current provider and why?
2. What are some new ways you might use to build relationship with your provider?
3. 'How do your providers share information about the kids day?
4. Share your false questions and how you could straighten them out

Family next steps

Now it's time to go and take some action. Which suggestion will you share with your provider that would give you most joy to see in action?
