

10 Questions to ask your child instead of "what was your grade?"

1. what effort did you put into your science today?
2. what project(s) are you working on?
3. How are your projects progressing?- what's working really well? what's not working so well?
4. what's a caring thing you've seen today in class?
5. what did you see not work well today? Try and describe a way it could have been better? what would you have liked to have done?
6. who works really hard in class? Describe what they do?
7. who seems to be always happy, smiley or in a good mood at school?
8. what have you failed at this week?
9. what questions did you ask today?
10. Tell me about something you struggled with today and kept going and then it began to make sense?